

ONLINE CONTENT RELEASE

Valley Shore Community Television Inc. offers our local producers, those who reside or are employed within our nine-town franchise area, the option to host their program on VSCTV's website for on-demand playback. This service is optional and is subject to availability. Due to storage limitations we cannot host online content indefinitely. The intent of our online content listing is to increase the exposure of local programs to the community and offer another venue to access content temporarily, both online and on mobile devices. All content authorized to be posted on VSCTV's website will be posted on a first-come-first-served basis. Shows will be retired from our website from oldest to newest to free up space for freshly produced content. Producers are free to upload their content to the web on their own, as long as it has the proper disclaimers, waving VSCTV of responsibility for the content, ideas, and opinions expressed in the program.

By signing this form, I authorize Valley Shore Community Television Inc. to temporarily host my program on VSCTV's website. I assume full responsibility for my program's content and hold VSCTV NOT RESPONSIBLE for any questions or problems associated with it, including but not limited to copyright disputes, and content complaints. I understand that my program may be removed from VSCTV's website at any time.
